DOCUMENTING LIFE, LOVE + ADVENTURE

Wedding Photography Guide

YOU'RE NOT JUST HIRING A PHOTOGRAPHER...

After photographing hundreds of weddings, I know that no two wedding days unfold exactly the same way. And honestly, that's part of what makes them fun.

My job goes beyond taking beautiful photos. I'm there to keep things moving, help you feel comfortable in front of the camera, handle the unexpected, and make sure you know what's happening next—without making your wedding feel like a photoshoot.

I'll give you direction when you need it, step back when the moment speaks for itself, and keep an eye on the little things happening around you. I want you to look back at your photos and see the big moments, the in-between moments, and all the little pieces of the day that made it yours.

Experienced. Relaxed. All in.

You shouldn't have to spend your wedding day worrying about whether you're doing everything "right" for the camera. You can be yourselves, have fun, get a little messy, laugh too hard, and actually be present.

I'll take care of the photography part.

With years of experience behind me, I've learned how to anticipate what's coming, adapt when plans change, and create beautiful images without making everything feel overly posed or staged. My approach combines genuine, photojournalistic moments with the portraits and family photos you'll want to have for years to come.

Think of me as the person who knows what's coming next, keeps things moving when they need to, and knows when to simply step back and let the moment happen. Because the best photos usually happen when you forget the camera is even there.

Your wedding should feel like your wedding—not a production built around getting the perfect photo.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

“HOW MANY IMAGES WILL I RECEIVE?”

The number of delivered images varies. It can depend on how many guests, what parts of the days I recover and how much is happening at your event. With that said, you'll typically receive 70 or more images per hour. So an eight hour wedding is going to receive at least 560 images. I edit and give you ALL of the best images. There is no cap to the number you'll receive.

“WHAT IS YOUR BOOKING PROCESS?”

To officially book your date, I will email you a contract to sign and there is a 20% retainer payment. The balance is due 30 days before your wedding.

“CAN YOU HELP ME WITH MY TIMELINE?”

Yes! I have photographed over 300 weddings, so I have seen a lot of timelines. My experience and expertise means I can offer valuable input on your schedule for the day to help it flow with as little stress as possible.
